Trace, then write again the four seasons.

spring

summer

fall

winter

Read this with me:

Look for the woolly bear caterpillar on page four. This amazing little creature is able to survive the freezing cold winter by making its very own antifreeze! In the spring, our little friend warms up, eats, wraps up in a cocoon, and then turns into a tiger moth. Imagine growing up from a little crawling insect into a creature that flies!

Aren't you doing something like that too?

We can see how wonderful our God is and how much he loves and cares for us by studying his amazing creation. Go outside and take a look for yourself!

1 Corinthians 10:26
1 Timothy 4:4

Thinking Time

What season is each picture in this book?
Does it snow where you live?
What different colors are apples?
Can you change into something else like the woolly bear caterpillar does?

Color the leaves.
Are they summer or fall leaves?

Seasons Matching Game

There are four seasons: spring, summer, winter, and fall.
Draw a line to match the season to its picture.

spring

summer

winter
